鳥獣戯画を描こう！

Choju-giga (Animal Caricatures) is a scroll painting in ink, which is a national treasure belonging to Kozan-ji, Kyoto. Especially, it is famous for the anthropomorphically described animals including rabbits, frogs and monkeys. It is also called “the Japanese oldest manga” since it was drawn from the 12nd to 13rd century. Would you like to try drawing one with a calligraphy pen?
